Course's Mindset

Objective

Our goal is to provide context for what you will learn in Codecademy, and to show you what you can do with the knowledge acquired.

Our methodology

- Practice > Theory
- Learn by doing
- Show, not tell

What we will teach you

- Ruby foundations & syntax 💎
- Core notions of programming 👩👨💻

What we will not teach you

- Front-end 📱
- Building web applications 📠

⚠️ This course is not a bootcamp! ⚠️

What makes a successful student 🎓

- Punctual for lectures: We start at 7pm JST! ⌚
- Complete Codecademy module in advance 🧐
- Not afraid to ask questions ?
- Practice makes perfect (REPL & Codewars) 🥊

The Team

Sasha Kaverina

Community & Events Manager

Sasha takes care of our amazing Le Wagon Tokyo community and events! She has been living in Japan for 3 years, speaks Japanese, and is coming straight from Kyoto where she was working for a Japan-based venture capital.

Douglas Berkley

Tokyo Bootcamp Manager

An alumni of the first batch in Tokyo, Douglas joined a local startup after graduating to gain experience as a fullstack developer. He joined the Japan team in 2018 as our Tokyo driver, giving students the best Le Wagon experience every day.

Yann Klein

Driver

Yann is the driver for our part-time bootcamp. He has been living in Japan for 9 years, speaks fluent Japanese, and was developing VR applications using JavaScript before joining our team.

Sylvain Pierre

Le Wagon Japan co-founder

Sylvain is the co-founder of Le Wagon in Japan. He mainly takes care of the community, and loves to teach programming and product development fundamentals to beginners.

It will be intense
You will nail it 🚀!
